While not all products are fireproof, their metal trays are suitable for high-temperature and fire-resistant installations. Some items are available for immediate purchase, while others are on pre-order with estimated delivery dates. Their catalog includes stainless steel and aluminum options, which are commonly used in fireproof applications.

3. Europages Supplier Listings Europages lists multiple companies providing fireproof steel cable trays in the Maldives. Brands like Aestuver, Niedax, and VALDINOX specialize in high-performance fire protection and cable-laying systems.

These suppliers offer steel, stainless steel, PVC, GRP, and aluminum cable trays, along with fire-stopping accessories and installation support. This is a useful resource for comparing manufacturers and selecting a supplier based on material, certification, and project requirements.

Material and Certification Considerations

Materials: Steel, stainless steel, aluminum, GRP/FRP composites. Steel and stainless steel are preferred for fireproof applications. Certifications: Look for ISO certification, UL certification, or compliance with local fire safety standards.

Accessories: Fireproof cable trays often include connectors, brackets, and fire-stopping cushions for wall and ceiling penetrations.

Recommendations

Contact Brilltech Engineers for customized fireproof cable trays and immediate local support. Check Asters Maldives for in-stock metal trays suitable for fire-resistant installations. Use Europages listings to explore additional suppliers and compare materials, certifications, and installation services.

These options ensure that you can source fireproof cable trays in the Maldives with reliable delivery, quality assurance, and technical support.
