Key Takeaways

M-TEC, a South African manufacturer, supplies optical fiber cables to Mozambique, complemented by a small number of local cabling and fiber optics companies. Key Manufacturers and SuppliersM-TEC (Malesela Taihan Electric Cable) is a major supplier of optical fiber cables to Mozambique. Established in South Africa, M-TEC produces a wide range of optical fiber cables including aerial self-support cables, duct cables, direct buried cables, indoor cables, and micro duct cables.

Their products feature single and multi-mode fibers, rodent and termite resistance, corrugated steel tape armor, and water-blocking sheaths, suitable for both overhead and underground installations. Mozambique is one of M-TEC's largest export destinations in Africa, alongside Namibia, Botswana, Zambia, Ghana, and Nigeria.

Local Companies

There are also local cabling and fiber optics companies in Mozambique, primarily located in Maputo and Matola. While specific company names are not detailed in the sources, verified listings indicate at least two active businesses providing cabling and fiber optic solutions within the country. These companies may offer installation, distribution, and possibly limited local assembly of optical fiber products.

Market Overview

The Mozambique fiber optic cable market is growing, driven by increasing demand for high-speed internet and telecommunications infrastructure. Market reports highlight opportunities for both local and international suppliers, with export potential and regional demand creating a favorable environment for fiber optic cable deployment. Companies entering the market can leverage this growth by supplying high-quality cables and related connectivity components.

Summary

For businesses or individuals seeking optical fiber cables in Mozambique: M-TEC is the primary international manufacturer exporting to Mozambique, offering a comprehensive range of optical fiber cables suitable for various applications. Local cabling and fiber optics companies provide additional options for procurement, installation, and support within Mozambique. The market is expanding, presenting opportunities for both supply and infrastructure development.

This combination of international and local suppliers ensures that Mozambique has access to high-quality optical fiber cables for telecommunications and data network projects.
