Marco Cable Tray Systems – Provides versatile galvanized cable trays adaptable to complex installations. Marco has regional distributors in Africa for industrial and commercial projects.

Regional Manufacturers and Suppliers

While global players dominate, several local and regional manufacturers in Africa and Central regions supply galvanized steel cable trays: CARPEL – Offers cable management solutions with regional distribution in select African countries. Pemsa Cable Management, S. A. – Active in African markets through partnerships and export channels.

HAWEE Production and Trading JC

S – Supplies galvanized cable trays suitable for industrial applications in Central Africa. Dongguan Leizheng Cable Tray Co., Ltd. – Exports galvanized trays to African countries, often through B2B marketplaces. Zhengzhou Modern Cable Bridge Factory – Provides cost-effective galvanized cable trays for regional projects.

Key Considerations for African and Central Markets

Distribution Networks: Many global manufacturers rely on local distributors or partners to supply African markets. Product Adaptation: Harsh environmental conditions in some regions require corrosion-resistant galvanized trays. Compliance and Certification: Ensure products meet local electrical and safety standards.

B Marketplaces: Platforms like Tradewheel and ThomasNet facilitate sourcing from both global and regional manufacturers.

Summary

For Central and African countries, Eaton, Schneider Electric, Legrand, Atkore, and Marco are the most recognized global suppliers with regional availability. Local manufacturers like CARPEL, Pemsa, HAWEE, and Zhengzhou Modern Cable Bridge Factory provide additional options, often at competitive prices. Businesses should consider distribution, compliance, and environmental suitability when selecting galvanized steel cable tray suppliers.
