India Active Optical Devices 100G

Overview

10Gtek 100G QSFP28 Active Optical Cable 100G parallel active optical cable is perfect for connecting switch, router, server, NIC, or other fiber optic equi.

Key Takeaways

100G QSFP28 Active Optical Cables (AOCs) are widely available in India, offering high-speed, low-latency connectivity for data centers, enterprise networks, and HPC applications.

Overview100

G Active Optical Cables (AOCs) are designed to provide ultra-fast 100Gbps full-duplex data transfer by combining four 25Gbps lanes over multimode fiber. They are ideal for short-reach, high-bandwidth applications, including switch-to-switch, switch-to-server, and switch-to-storage connections.

AO

Cs are plug-and-play, lightweight, and consume less power compared to traditional copper cables, making them suitable for high-density environments.
