

Kyrgyzstan Industrial Optical Module Supplier

Overview

OcOO “Kyrgyz Unaa Kurulush” was opened with the aim of developing industry of the Kyrgyz Republic. The enterprise will become the first machine-building factory open since the republic's independence.

Key Takeaways

Kyrgyzstan hosts several optical module manufacturers and suppliers, including Swakshi Simplifying Networks, offering SFP modules, DAC cables, and other fiber optic communication equipment.

Key Manufacturers and Suppliers

Swakshi Simplifying Networks is a prominent optical module manufacturer in Kyrgyzstan. They specialize in producing SFP modules, PON SFPs, DAC cables, fiber patch cords, and industrial network switches. Their production facility uses modern technology and equipment to ensure high-quality, MSA-compliant optical transceivers and networking solutions.

The company emphasizes adherence to international standards, rigorous quality checks, and customized solutions for industrial networking needs.

SKY PFM LIMITE

D is another supplier listed in Kyrgyzstan, offering a wide range of fiber optic modules, including RF optical transceivers, ultra-low data rate modules, CWDM optical transceivers, and bi-directional SFP/GBIC/XFP modules. Their products feature high integration, low failure rates, electromagnetic shielding, and compliance with ROHS standards, suitable for both single-mode and multi-mode fiber applications. Product Types Kyrgyzstan-based manufacturers provide a variety of optical communication products, including: SFP Optical Transceivers: Standard and bi-directional modules for single-mode and multi-mode fibers.

CWDM and GBI

C Modules: For wavelength-division multiplexing and high-speed data transmission.

DAC and AO

C Cables: Direct attach and active optical cables for short-range connectivity.

PO

N Equipment: Optical network units (ONU) and optical line terminals (OLT) for passive optical networks. These products are designed for telecommunication, industrial networking, and data center applications, with features like hot-plug support, digital diagnostics, and extended transmission distances.

Sourcing and B2

B Platforms

For international buyers, ExportHub and TradeKey provide directories of verified Kyrgyzstani optical module manufacturers and suppliers. These platforms allow buyers to compare products, request quotations, and connect directly with manufacturers for bulk orders or customized solutions.

Summary

Kyrgyzstan has a growing optical module manufacturing sector, with companies like Swakshi Simplifying Networks and SKY PFM LIMITED offering a wide range of fiber optic transceivers, SFP modules, and networking cables. These manufacturers focus on quality, compliance with international standards, and customized solutions, making them suitable partners for both domestic and international optical communication projects.
