Overview

Find the latest cable tray price list for 2025. Compare B2B and B2C pricing, materials, and supplier options.

Key Takeaways

Galvanized cable trays typically range from $20 to $150 per standard section, depending on type, size, and coating.

The cost of galvanized cable trays varies based on material, design, and finish. Hot-dip galvanized steel trays, commonly used for industrial and commercial installations, are priced according to standard lengths (usually 2.4 meters) and type, such as ladder, perforated, or wire mesh trays. Typical price ranges include:

- Hot-dip galvanized ladder trays: $25-$80 per 2.4-meter section
- Perforated galvanized trays: $30-$100 per section, offering better ventilation and cable support
- Wire mesh galvanized trays: $40-$150 per section, preferred for flexibility and lightweight installations

Factors Affecting Prices

- Material Quality: Higher-grade steel or additional galvanization increases durability and corrosion resistance, raising the price.
- Tray Type: Ladder trays are generally less expensive than wire mesh trays due to simpler construction.

- Coating and Finish: Powder-coated or hot-dip galvanized trays cost more than untreated or painted trays but offer longer lifespan .
- Supplier and Location: Prices vary by manufacturer, distribution costs, and regional demand .
- Fittings and Accessories: Elbows, tees, and connectors are priced per unit and can add to the total cost .

Applications and Value

Galvanized cable trays are widely used in industrial facilities, commercial buildings, data centers, and telecommunication setups. They provide mechanical strength, corrosion resistance, and organized cable management, which justifies the higher upfront cost compared to aluminum or mild steel trays . Investing in quality galvanized trays ensures long-term durability, safety, and compliance with standards such as DIN EN 61537 and IEC regulations . For large-scale projects, it is recommended to compare suppliers and consider bulk discounts, as prices can fluctuate based on order volume and market conditions .
