Overview

Explore 20 top manufacturers and suppliers of Optical Time-Domain Reflectometers in our comprehensive photonics buyers' guide.

Key Takeaways

Jilong is a prominent Russian manufacturer of Optical Time Domain Reflectometers (OTDRs), offering domestically developed and multifunctional OTDR solutions. Overview of Jilong OTDRs

Jilong is a Russian company specializing in the research, development, and production of OTDRs for optical fiber networks. The company has over 30 years of experience in optical measurement technologies and has developed a new generation of multifunctional OTDR devices for backbone and engineering applications. Their OTDRs are designed to support fiber network construction, maintenance, and fault detection, with performance features comparable to international brands like EXFO.

Key Features

- Domestic development: Entirely designed and manufactured in Russia, ensuring local support and compliance with Russian standards.
- Multifunctional capabilities: Suitable for backbone network testing, including long-haul fiber and complex optical links.
- Advanced performance: Offers high sensitivity, dynamic range, and precise fault location, comparable to leading global OTDRs.

- Engineering focus: Designed for professional network engineers, supporting both field and laboratory testing.

Applications

Jilong OTDRs are used for:

- Network installation and commissioning: Verifying fiber segments, splices, and connectors.
- Troubleshooting and fault location: Detecting breaks, bends, or degraded splices in optical fibers.
- Preventive maintenance: Monitoring critical fiber links to prevent service failures.
- PON and FTTH testing: Characterizing high-loss optical splitters in fiber-to-the-home networks.

Comparison to Global Brands

While global OTDR brands like EXFO, Viavi, Yokogawa, and Anritsu dominate the international market with advanced software and cloud integration, Jilong provides a domestic alternative with competitive hardware performance and specialized features for Russian network infrastructure . This makes it a preferred choice for organizations seeking locally produced OTDR solutions. In summary, Jilong represents the primary Russian OTDR brand, offering high-performance, multifunctional devices for optical fiber testing and network maintenance, with capabilities comparable to international leaders in the field .
