

What are some fiber optic grating manufacturers in Ireland

Overview

Flowgrate GRP grating panels are significantly lighter than steel, up to 50%, and feature a hard-wearing, anti-slip gritted surface.

Key Takeaways

Fibretec Solutions is a key Irish manufacturer of fiber optic products, including custom assemblies and network components.

Notable Manufacturers and Suppliers

Fibretec Solutions Ltd. – Based in Limerick, Fibretec designs, manufactures, and installs a wide range of fiber optic products, including custom preterminated multi-core assemblies, ruggedized patchcords, and FTTH management equipment. They provide tailored solutions for telecommunications networks, wind farms, and substations, and offer on-site testing and repair services, making them a prominent choice for custom fiber optic components in Ireland .

Enet – Specializes in dedicated and scalable fiber optic infrastructure through its Dark Fibre solutions. While primarily focused on network deployment and wholesale services, Enet provides high-quality fiber optic components and infrastructure that may include grating-related products for advanced network applications .

Fastcom and Entegro – These companies provide fiber optic telecommunications services and infrastructure solutions, including high-speed broadband and gigabit network deployment. They collaborate with multiple infrastructure providers, which may include sourcing or supplying fiber optic gratings and related components .

Directories and Trade Platforms – Websites like Trademo and Infoisinfo list multiple fiber optic manufacturers and suppliers in Ireland, offering shipment details, trade volumes, and contact information. These platforms can help identify additional companies that manufacture or supply fiber optic gratings and related products .

Summary

For sourcing fiber optic gratings in Ireland, Fibretec Solutions is the most directly relevant manufacturer, offering custom design and production capabilities. Other companies like Enet, Fastcom, and Entegro provide broader fiber optic infrastructure and may supply grating components indirectly. Trade directories such as Trademo and Infoisinfo are useful for discovering additional suppliers and manufacturers across Ireland .
